Infinite Care Named Amongst South Australia's Best Aged Care Homes

Infinite Care, a leading national provider of residential aged care services, is thrilled to announce that Rose Court, one of its aged care facilities in Adelaide, has been named as one of the best aged care homes in South Australia under the government's new star rating system.

The Federal Government's recently introduced star rating system aims to recognise and reward aged care facilities against four sub-categories including compliance, residents' experience, staffing and quality measures. Achieving a 4-star rating is testament to Infinite Care Rose Court's unwavering commitment to providing exceptional care, fostering a supportive environment, and delivering personalised services that enhance the wellbeing of its residents.

From the moment people step foot into Rose Court, they are greeted with warmth, respect, and a nurturing and inclusive community."*
